

Personal Finance Education Group (PFEG)

Description of activity

PFEG is an independent charity helping schools to plan and teach personal finance relevant to students' lives and needs. Their mission is to ensure that all young people leaving school have the confidence, skills and knowledge in financial matters to participate fully in society.

PFEG can provide:

- consultancy and support from experts by phone, email or face-to-face;
- guidance on fitting finance into the curriculum from mathematics to enterprise;
- high quality resources and teaching aids;
- training in personal finance teaching as part of teachers' continuing professional development;
- added value in the classroom by matching volunteers with a background and expertise in finance with the specific needs of schools; and
- a creative approach based on the needs of individual schools.

Through this activity participants will:

- develop skills in teaching personal finance education
- develop curriculum materials
